

V's EPIC FATHER'S DAY GIFT GUIDE

HOUSE OF VALENTINA

Note from V

Vol. 1 Issue 4

Dad's are such a special group, aren't they? Fierce protectors, silly sidekicks, tend to get up to mischief, and always have a way of keeping everyone on an adventure!

One of my kids' favorite memories with Jack is the time he decided to create "an airplane" for them to ride on... it could take them anywhere they wanted. It sounded like such good fun that I ran and grabbed snacks out of the pantry and drinks and played air hostess. He gathered pillows and blankets and props and used the bed as the airplane.

We all "boarded" the airplane and we all burst into laughter when he made his first flight announcement over the kids' microphone that was attached to their kid size keyboard.

Imagine the uproar, though, when as we went to "take off" Jack had somehow downloaded a sound track for everything from taking off, to the seat belt sign... or everyone's personal favorite- the crying baby. That got quite a few groans! But nothing was as amusing as hitting turbulence and everyone bumping up and down.

Dad's seem to have that knack don't they?

They also very rarely treat themselves to something fun (though occasionally they can't resist a good gadget!) but they tend to be quite practical, which is why I look for something to treat them to when Father's Day arrives. I hope you will enjoy getting loads of ideas for all the Dads in your life! I had quite some fun doing a bit of shopping for my guys! xxV

A Good Day to Indulge

Whiskey goes best when served in an amazing glass and with decadent chocolates!

Rethinking the everyday essentials...

Elevate his everyday with essentials he'll actually use—think sleek phone cases, timeless leather bags, fresh sneakers, and a keyring that's anything but boring. Practical gifts, but make them stylish.

Crocodile Embossed Leather Belt from YSL

Enough with ugly phone cases. This iPhone case is the perfect mix of practical and refined—ideal for the dad who wants protection without sacrificing style. With its sleek design and durable build, it's a small upgrade that makes a big impact (and trust me, he'll actually use it).

This leather bag is iconic, refined, and ready for anything—perfect for workdays, weekends, or that spontaneous trip to Paris.

This Dolce&Gabbana tester set is pure luxury—14 dreamy scents in a velvet box that feels like a passport to Italy's most elegant memories.
